To Whom it May Concern

Mr Gerard McDermott & GMAC Internet Solutions Pty Ltd (GMACIS) have been providing services to NHP Electrical Engineering Products Pty Ltd (NHP) a wholly Australian owned company with an annual turnover of more than $180 million, since May 25th, 2002. The services were to be provided initially for a period of 4 months.

GMACIS was initially charged with "cleaning up" and completing a web and CD-Rom based system that had been partially delivered by a Microsoft Gold Partner who was technically unable to complete it. GMACIS completed this significant size system in less than 6 month and have continued to enhance it on an on-going basis.

GMACIS has been involved in numerous projects.

All dealings between NHP and GMACIS have been on a most professional basis. Gerard's technical expertise and those of his staff that have worked at NHP is beyond question. As such NHP has been happy to continue using GMACIS' services for more than 5 years.

It is with pleasure that I recommend GMACIS and its principal Mr Gerard McDermott to anyone wishing to develop even the more complex web based applications.
